From where Willow Glen stands today its beginning can hardly be imagined. At the same time this beginning is a very conscious part of our tradition. These are buildings familiar to us as they must have been to the students who attended the first session in September of 1950.

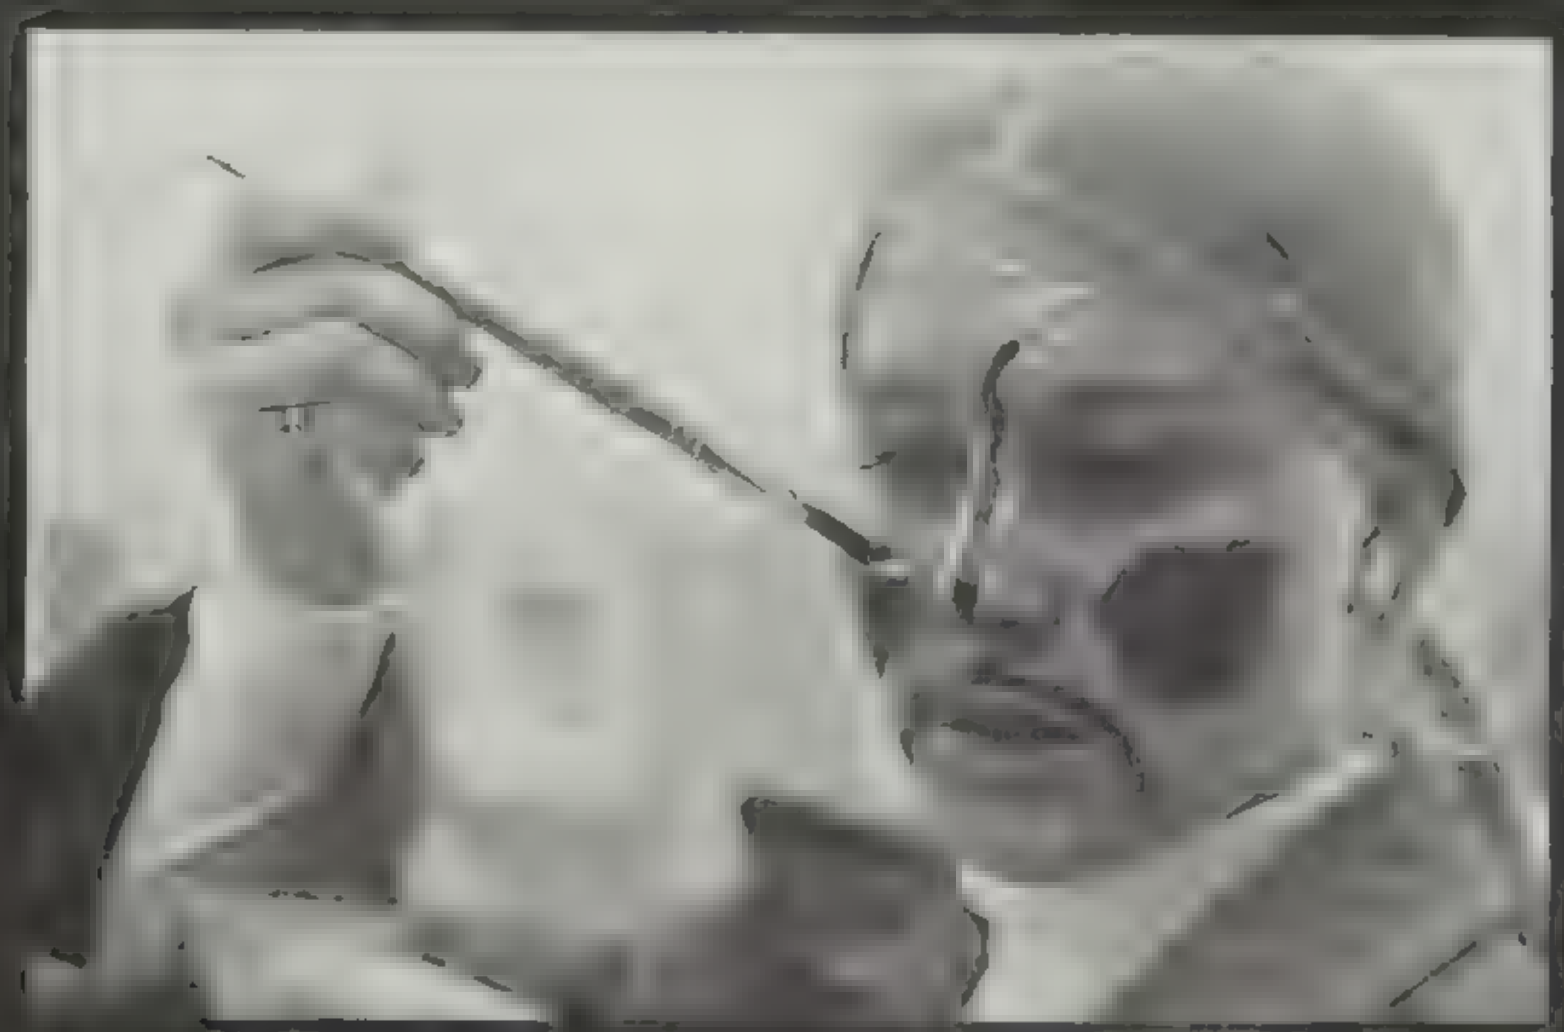

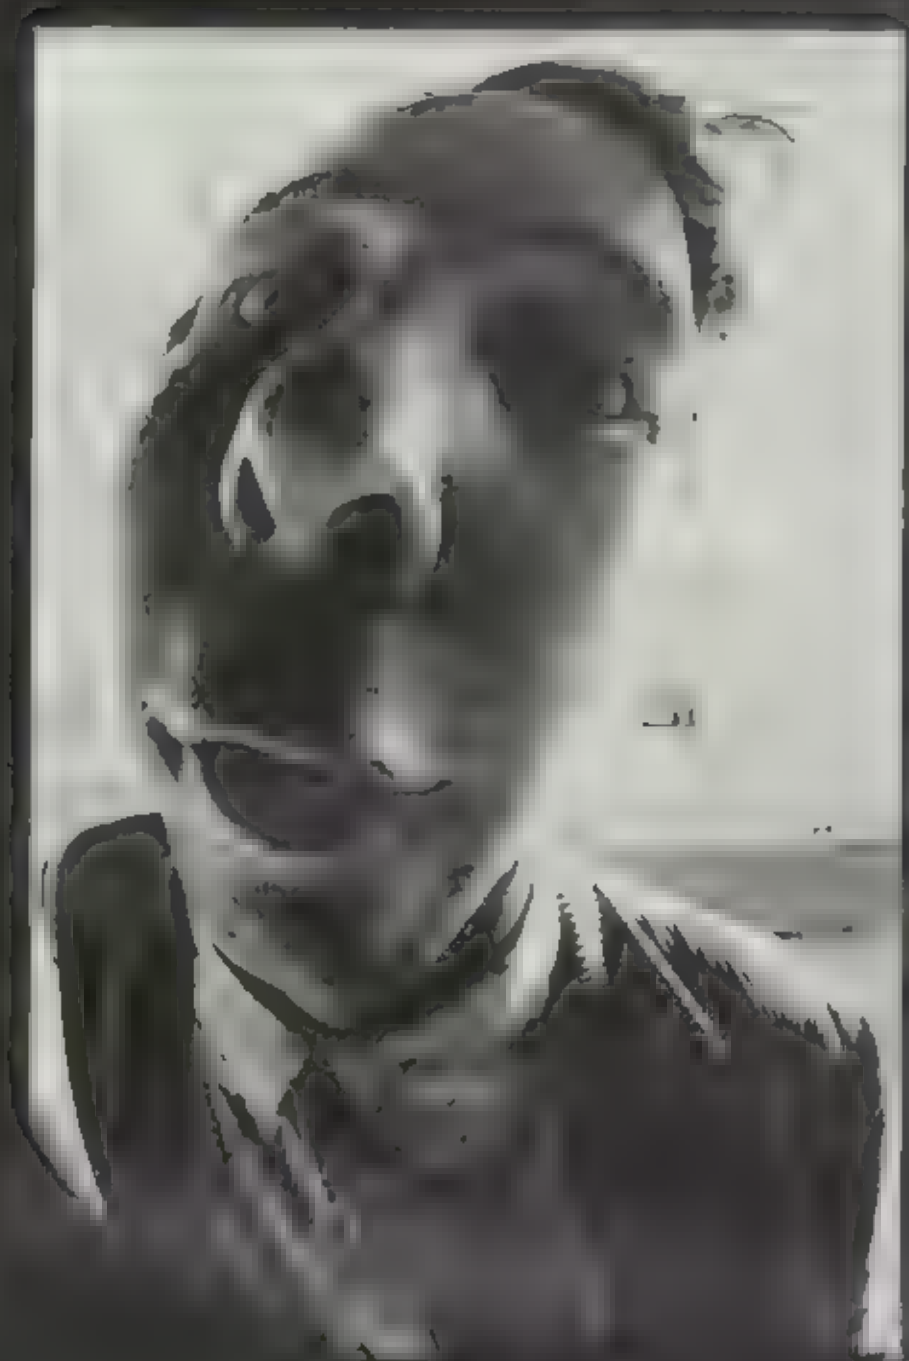

They started the clubs we join, the dances which are now tradition and the spirit of pranksterism whose ghosts still haunt the minds of an occasional restless or bored young student.

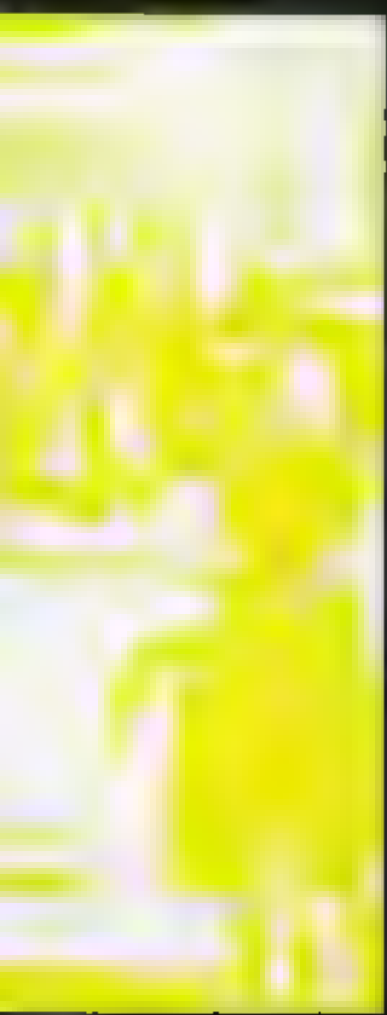

We accidentally bump into ourselves, our energies engaged in relief from the establishment. We put on masks that startle even ourselves at times. We are amazing, whimsical, stoical, and deadly serious. Our activity is an answer to some basic question we have bumped into along the way. Is there a way out? Yes. Maybe. Probably not. But we will find it anyway.

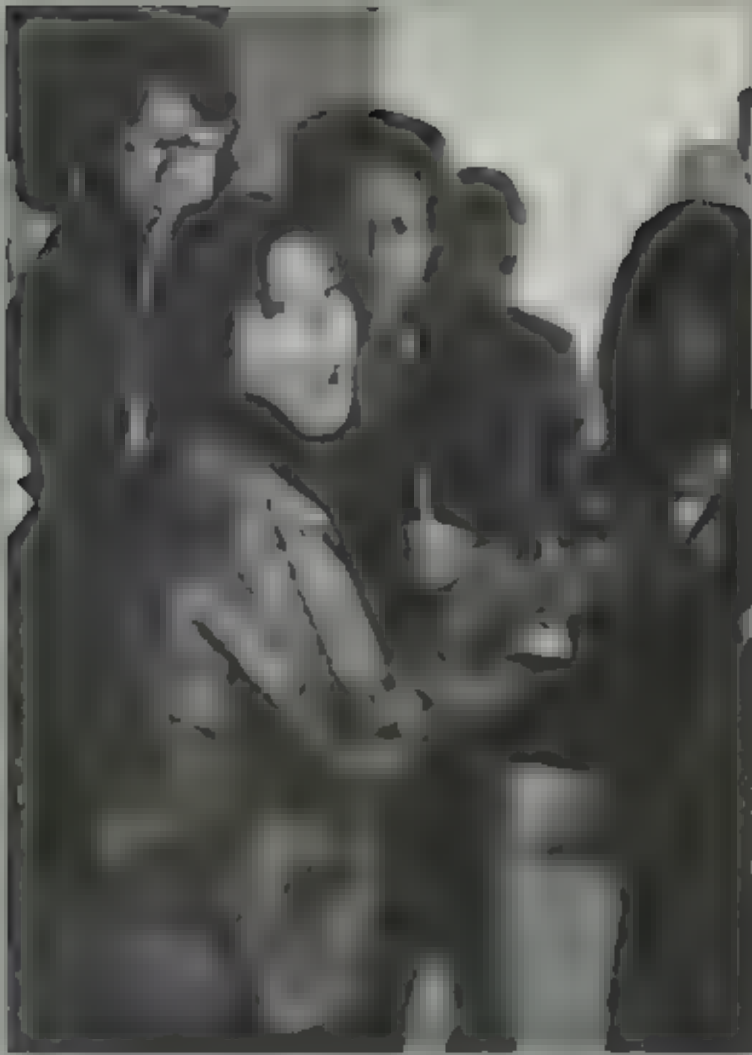

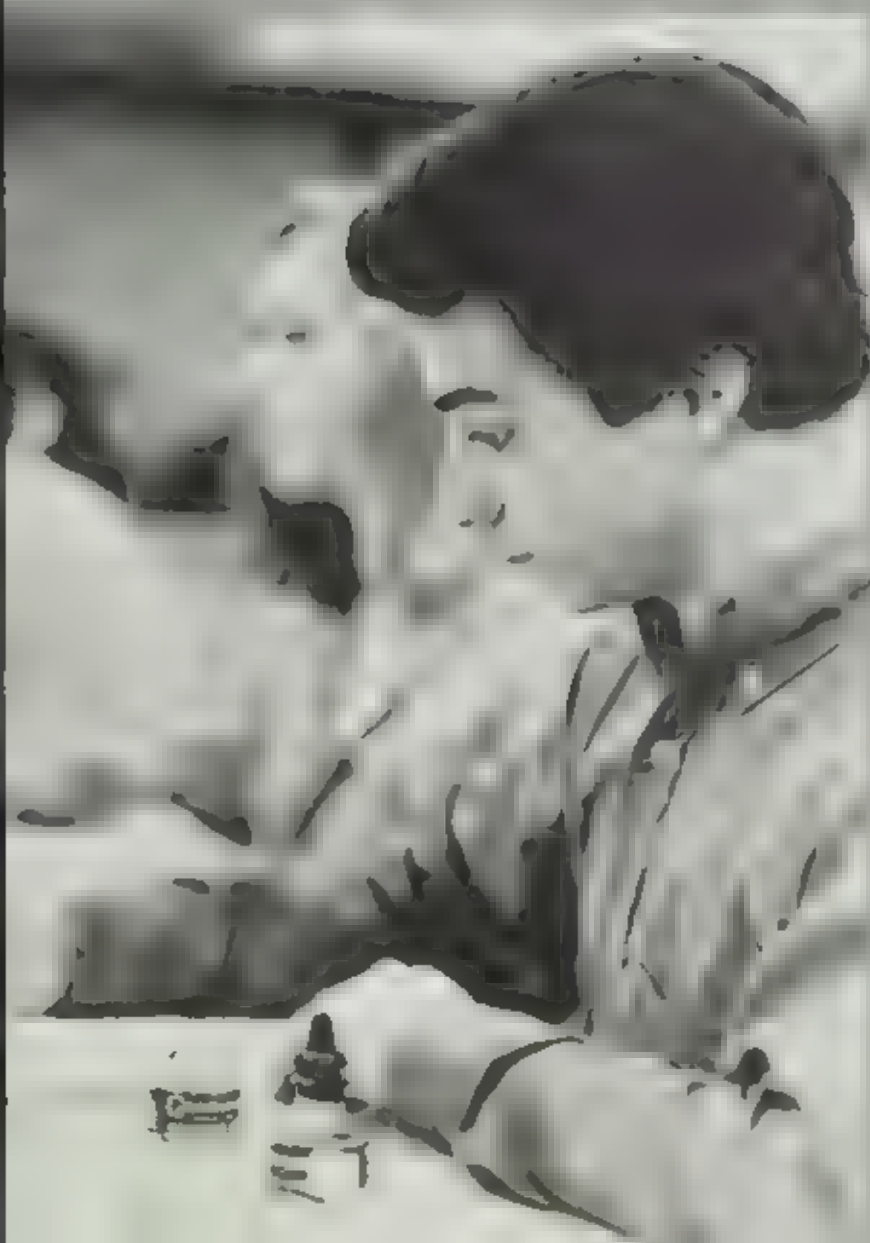

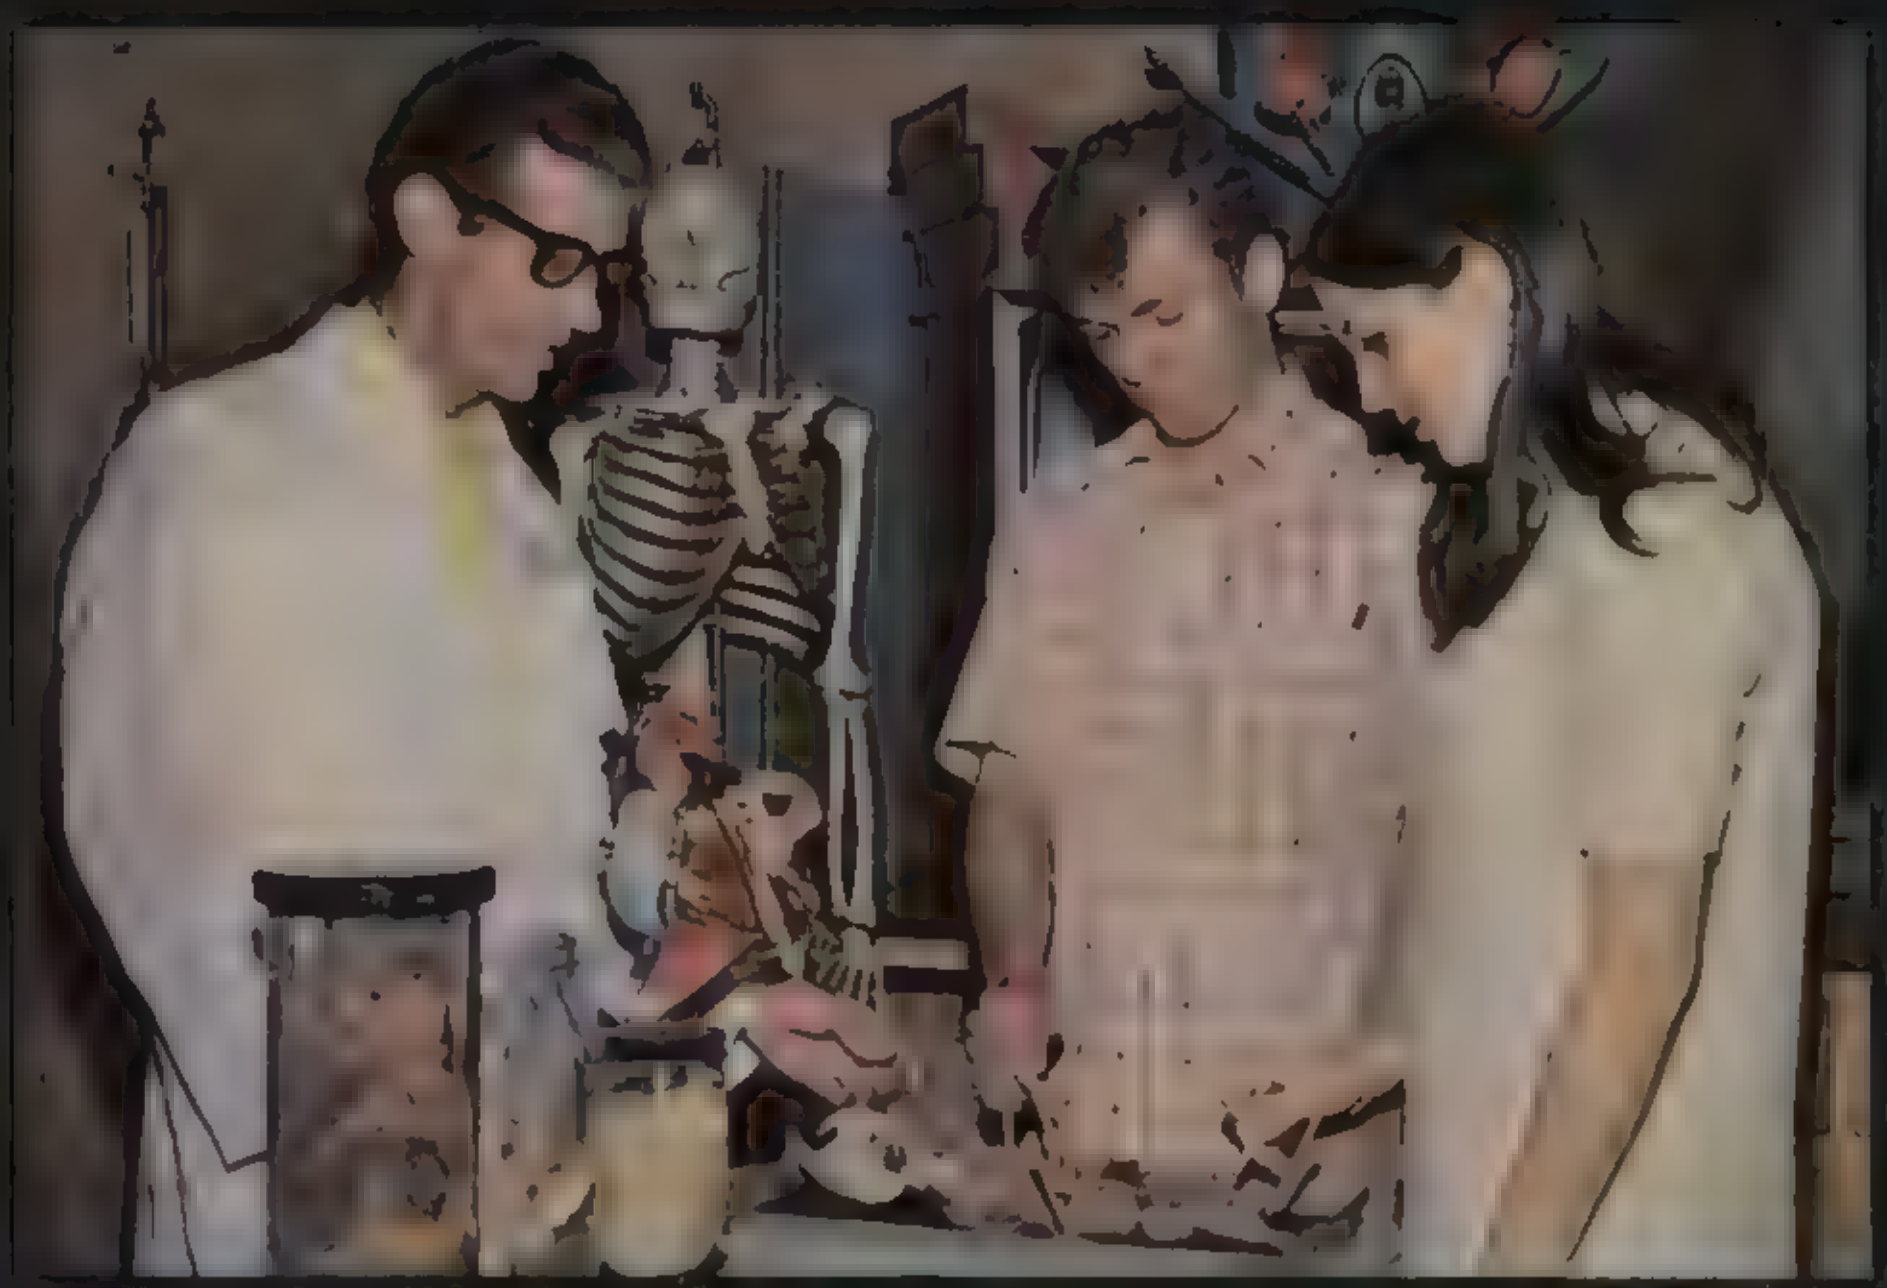

Today we seek, as they did before, to conform the empty steel shell into a home for our form or inspiration. Slowly we leave our own tradition etched in the form of a slow smouldering contamination of the walls with an idea, an opinion, or question. When the walls are filled, these buildings, too, will be a tradition.

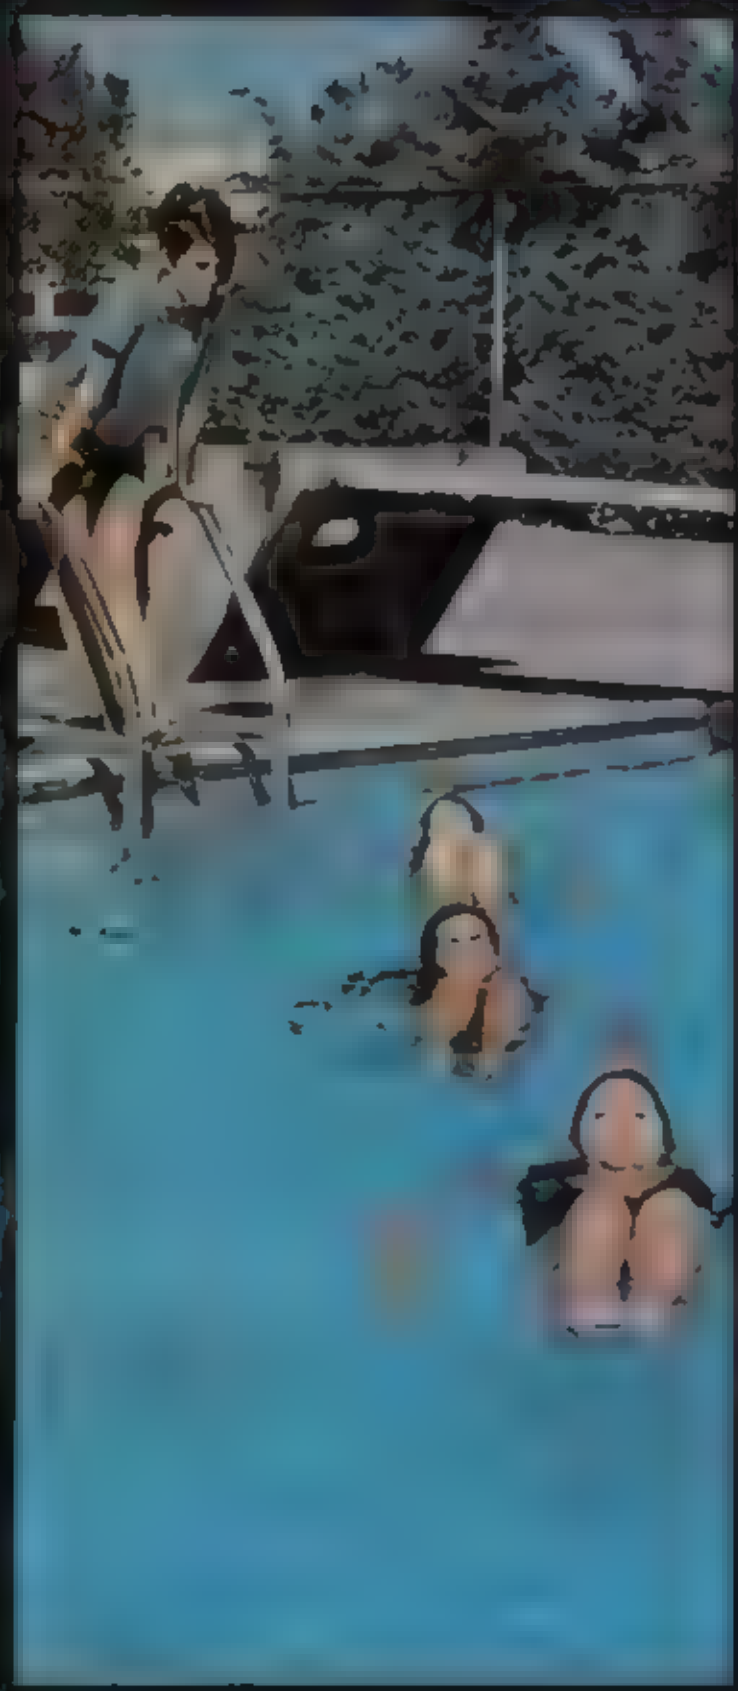

While the years of growth are not noted for complacency, no others hold so much promise and excitement. Before we can venture out into that world of uncertainty, we have to become more aware of our surrounding. Therefore, these years must be spent with exciting expectations for the future.

They lost and won on the same battlefield we now try. They looked blankly at the questions we guess at and miss again. They tried all the way to get out; with more than they brought in. We were born out of the past. And because of what's left to us that past had to be more than people around to accidentally start traditions. They had to be people who realized they were passing on more than old pictures, anecdotes, ripped textbooks, and worn grass. More than they had accounted for and we can handle in our own lives. We in time must also pass it on.

Changes swept the Willow Glen campus as a new principal took over.

Principal Gene Long brought with him a contagious enthusiasm which spread throughout the faculty and students.

Mr. Long encouraged greater interchange of ideas and a higher level of understanding between students and faculty. He actively supported many changes, among which were a committee of faculty and students which discusses problems and changes in the History and English department.

French, German, and Spanish are the three choices offered by Willow Glen's Foreign language department. Students are encouraged to complete at least two years of foreign language study in preparation for college. In the beginning courses, students learn a basic vocabulary of their language through repetition of dialogue exercises. The advance courses provide opportunities for students to further their knowledge by reading the literature of the language. The laboratory is used to supplement the student's classroom learning by using specially designed tape recordings.

MANY LANGUAGES EXPLORED BY LANGUAGE ARTS

Because of a basic need for the comprehension of our language, English is part of the general curriculum for all students. It is the English departments intention to provide a substantial background in the areas of vocabulary and proper writing techniques for every student. Students are encouraged to increase their literary understanding by reading selected works outside of school. There are also courses which are designed to instruct the interested student in proper public speaking procedures. Students in these classes find themselves in a stimulating and challenging atmosphere where self-expression and critical objectivity are encouraged.

SOCIAL STUDIES LED BY COMPETENT INSTRUCTORS

The Social Studies Department at Willow Glen rates high among any in the area. The teachers in this department are highly skilled and competent instructors.

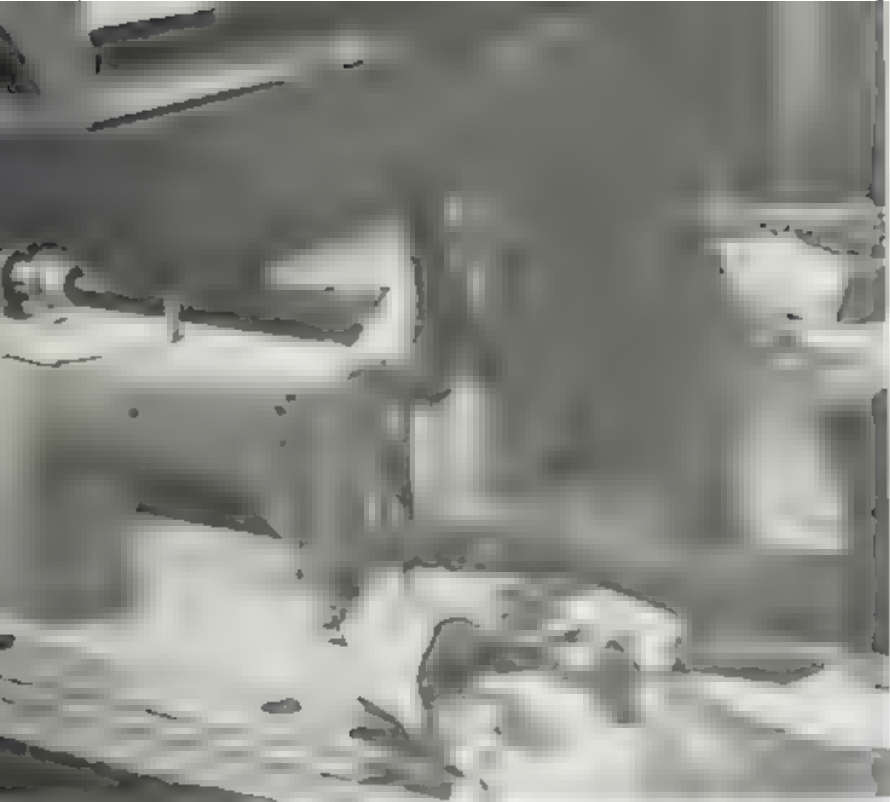

Starting in his Sophomore year, a student at Willow Glen is expected to progress through three years of required Social Studies classes. In his Sophomore year, a student must take a semester of State Requirements, including First Aid, Driver Education, Alcohol and Drugs and a semester of World History. The Junior year is made up entirely of a U.S. History course. The Senior year starts out with a semester of American Government and winds up with Comparative Government.

An addition was made to the Social Studies curriculum this year. In place of Comparative Government, Seniors were presented with the opportunity of taking either Afro-American or Mexican-American Culture. An added course is an Introduction to Behavior Science class.

Students who have a vivid imagination, a pounding curiosity, and a yearning to experiment with new ideas, find themselves engrossed in the work of the Science Department. In one of the most challenging fields of the future, prospective scientists learn not only how to use science, but more important, how to relate it to the living environment of the world today

Mathematics is a tool of all other sciences. With this in mind, the Math Department provides much more than the basic studies which train one for business of daily living. Teachers work hard to see that there is always a challenge for the interested student.

BUSINESS MEETS NEED FOR TRAINED PERSONNEL

Business education has become an important part of the program of many Willow Glen High students. With an urgent plea for trained business personnel being sounded by modern industry; the Willow Glen business department has been designed to help remedy the situation. Training is offered in the fields of typing, shorthand, business law, bookkeeping, record keeping, and business machines. Department chairman, E. Schneider, demands and maintains a high level of professional pride among the members of the Business department.

SENIOR MEMORIES

It would be doubtlessly apropos to begin a "Senior Memories" section with the stirring, standard phrase "do you remember when" and thus evoke from the reader all manner of ambiguously soft and sticky sweet memories about one's golden years at Willow Glen High. However, 1968-9 being what it was, realism was the proverbial and going thing and a "do you remember" phrase may well cloud what really should be remembered. What our golden years consisted of was mostly this: endless lectures, fruitless nights of wreckless cramming, continuing agony over one's grades and nauseating sessions in the school cafeteria. Perhaps too, you remember those dark, glum days when a gray mental haze covered every room and your eyelids slid inexorably over your eyeballs enroute to darkness. Three years of brassy laughing, lame jokes, tired moralizing and skyrocketting assignment sheets, three years of tests, quizzes, examinations, worksheets, studyguides, essays, term reports, complexes and frustration: three golden years... and this was their stock and their standard, their soup and their nuts, their beginning and their end. Three golden years burring into an a lovely smoglike mass in our minds. Three years, or 3245 hours, or 194700 seconds composed of waiting for the blessed bell to "for God sakes" ring and set us free.

Ah, but now you are recoiling. "Skeptic, cynic, crybaby," you say in varying shades of crimson, "If you thought school so agonizing why didn't you drop out, buzz off, flake out? Why did you come?" Why is an excellent question and unfortunately we are not sure why. But perhaps, just perhaps, it might be because of those days when the plotm lifted and a few rays of learning slipped in along with a little humor. Perhaps it could be the day when a chemistry teacher finally pounded home the bonding process and a light went on in your mind, or the day an English teacher made us feel the grandeur and despair of the American dream in Huck Finn, or the day when a Physics instructor got us stirred up about wave motion and got you to laugh when he brought out a full size cardboard Dodge girl, or the day when a Trig instructor helped us chase down the elusive x and made us see the sublime solution. Those days when a taught idea of a discussed concept suddenly went nova in our minds and exploded us across a universe of thought, perhaps because of those days our attitude softens about high school existence.

Perhaps too, the half embarrassed human happiness of going to your first and only Junior Prom on a warm, hazy May night, or the illogical feeling of pride at watching your champion basketball team win a game, or the joy of talking with friends at school, perhaps all this too, made it worthwhile. Then you remember all the dust and chaff, the boredom, the meanness, the stupidities and the issue of why hangs in the balance.

Do you remember when...? Yes, in a way we remember when. It was a time like any other time, and as can be aptly said:

It was the best of times; it was the worst of times, it was the age of light; it was the age of darkness,
but most of all it was our time

Because the sophomore class is vigorous and emphatic, it usually constitutes a great part of the school spirit here at Willow Glen. Their enthusiasm in participating in activities was shown by their outstanding job on the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Willow Glen has definitely benefit from the strength and vitality that the sophomores have exhibited Legislative reform found its way thru the FALL JUDICIARY. Student Court meted out a key decision slashing senior voting privileges for the final elections in the spring. The Court also considered cases questioning the Constitution and By-Laws. Because of these decisions the court members and other students initiated and suggested a series of changes in the Constitution and By-Laws.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

CLUBS; A BRANCH OF WILLOW GLEN

This year a new club, THE RAM SOCIETY, has been organized. In order to qualify, one must have 4 points, 3 points are given for a Varsity block, 2 points for a Junior Varsity block, and 1 point for a Sophomore block. These boys have contributed greatly to the fun and spirit at our school. Hopefully, this club will continue throughout Willow Glen's future.

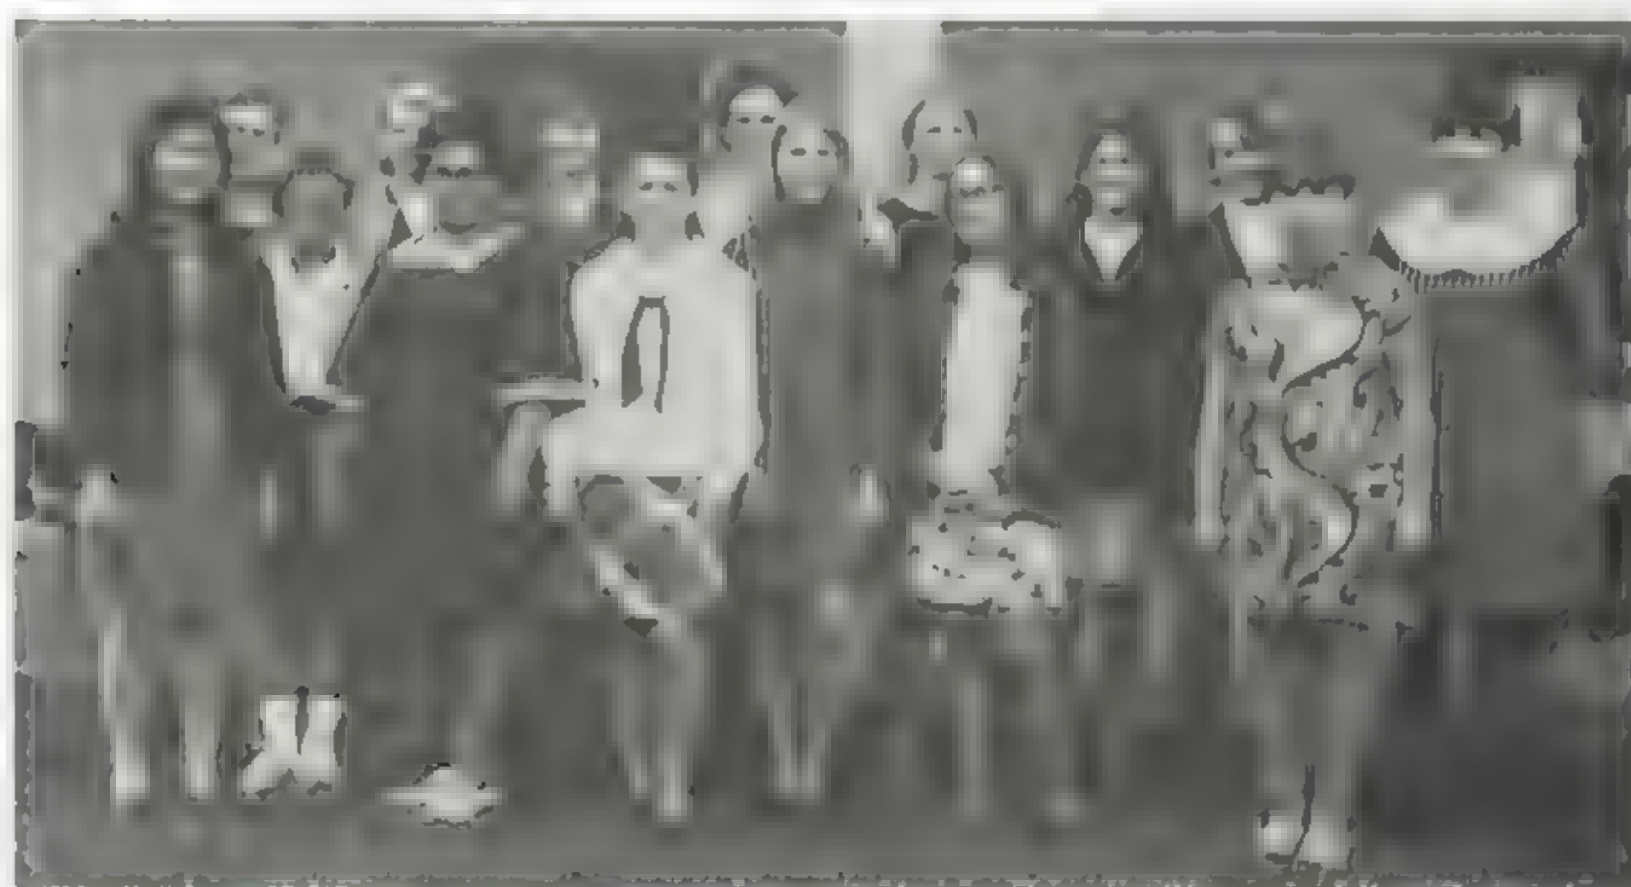

One of the many functions of F.F.A. is to raise animals during the summer and enter them in the county and state fairs. This provides valuable experience and teaches responsibility to the F.F.A. students. Bob Richards and Rory Gnekow went to the state convention at the University of California at Davis.

The PSYCHOLOGY CLUB holds encounter group meetings once each week. There are no elected officers, officials, rules, or constitution because the members do not feel a need for these, as the group is run entirely on a person-to-person basis. Students who are interested in exploring their feelings about a wide variety of subjects and who can accept another person's feelings are welcome.

The GIRL'S SERVICE CLUB has been a long standing organization at Willow Glen. The girls contribute greatly to our community by providing several services. Among these are: Providing food for needy families and making flowers for hospital trays at Christmas. These girls will prove that the younger generation is here to help and not to hinder.

GIRLS SERVICE

The World Affairs and Debate Club was formed on campus to create an awareness of world problems and to provide for the discussion of controversial issues. The Czech situation, population problem, civil liberties of students and the Arab-Israeli conflict are all issues being discussed. One of their greatest achievements is the Model U.N. that provides a greater understanding of international politics. We at Willow Glen, hope that more students will learn to feel a need to know about our country

Tomorrows Teachers Today has become one of the most successful clubs at school. It's purpose is to help students learn more about the teaching profession as a career. Guest speakers, special films, and field trips headline the activities and provides this club with an interesting and rewarding program

LAMDA KAPPA

Our SCIENCE DEPARTMENT sponsors a group of students who are interested in the field of science. The students go on field trips, see movies and watch scientific demonstrations. From their minds may come our future doctors and chemists. Hopefully, the science club will have helped to spur their minds onto bigger things

Thanks to our LIBRARY STAFF, we are able to use our library effectively and efficiently. We hope that more people will continue to have an interest in our library and help make it an excellent storehouse of knowledge. Among the duties of the library aides are serving at the circulation desk, typing bibliographies on specific subjects and processing new books

SCIENCE

SPANISH

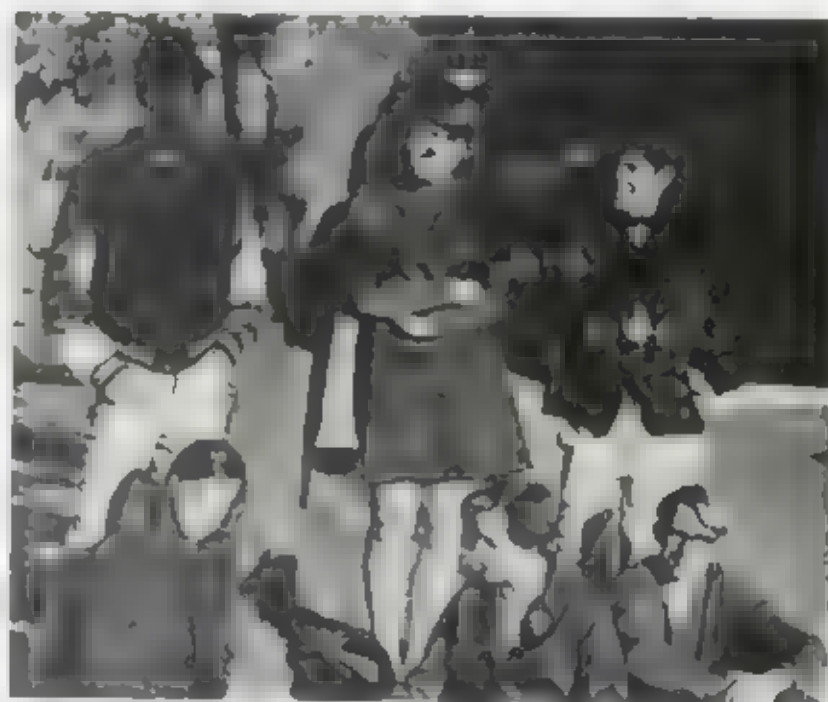

The language departments sponsor language clubs. Activities such as guest speakers, car washes, and field trips help to interest the students in their certain language and country. This club also provides for a deeper understanding of customs, laws and people of that country. Hopefully, we will continue to see this sort of thing continued in the years to come.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Willow Glen High School Chapter of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY is an organization to which junior and senior students are elected on the basis of their character scholarship, leadership and service to the school. Recognition for achievement in journalism is given at Willow Glen by membership in QUILL AND SCROLL, international honorary society for high school journalism. Members must be in the upper third of their junior or senior class in general scholastic standing and have enough inches of copy to enable their names to be submitted to the national secretary for approval. Membership in the C. S. F. is based on grades received in academic courses. Life membership is given to students who have been members for four semesters.

A.F.S. PROMOTES GOOD FOREIGN RELATIONS

Hi Rams,

My stay in Ram Country is fast drawing to a close. But my experiences and friends here in San Jose will always linger in my fondest memories. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all you fellow students and faculty members for your kindness and understanding. You personally have helped increase my knowledge of this beautiful country and its wonderful people. Thanks to my devoted teachers I will certainly be able to take back home to share with my countrymen, a better understanding of America's fine literature, complicated governmental systems and other necessities in improving my education.

One of the first mistakes I made in judging the youth of America, when taking the students here at Willow Glen as a typical example, was at the first Ram football game of the season. Everyone was yelling at the tops of their voices, "We are number 1." My immediate impression, according to my English upbringing, was to comment to myself, "What a conceited bunch of kids these Americans are." I soon learned not to make such quick judgments on matters about which I am ignorant. The sports scene at Willow Glen is fabulous and deserves all the encouragement it can ever be given through the tremendous spirit of the entire student body. Speaking as a representative of my home country, our congratulations go, not only to the fine Varsity Basketball team, but also to all the other keen athletes at Willow Glen. I am proud to proclaim that I was once a Ram Rooter.

The friendly society within this American school never can be compared with any other in the world. The relationship that has developed between you American students and myself, to me, has been the most important factor in making this year here the most successful and meaningful time in my life. The hospitality you have shown me can never be repaid. The only possible way for me to thank you is to tell all my acquaintances back in England what great people the "yankies" are.

May God Bless You All, Sophomores, Juniors and graduating Seniors, in everything you participate in throughout your life. May your precious dreams and hopes for the future all come true. You will always remain in my deepest memories, closest to my heart all my life. I will, from now on, always be backing both Britain and America.

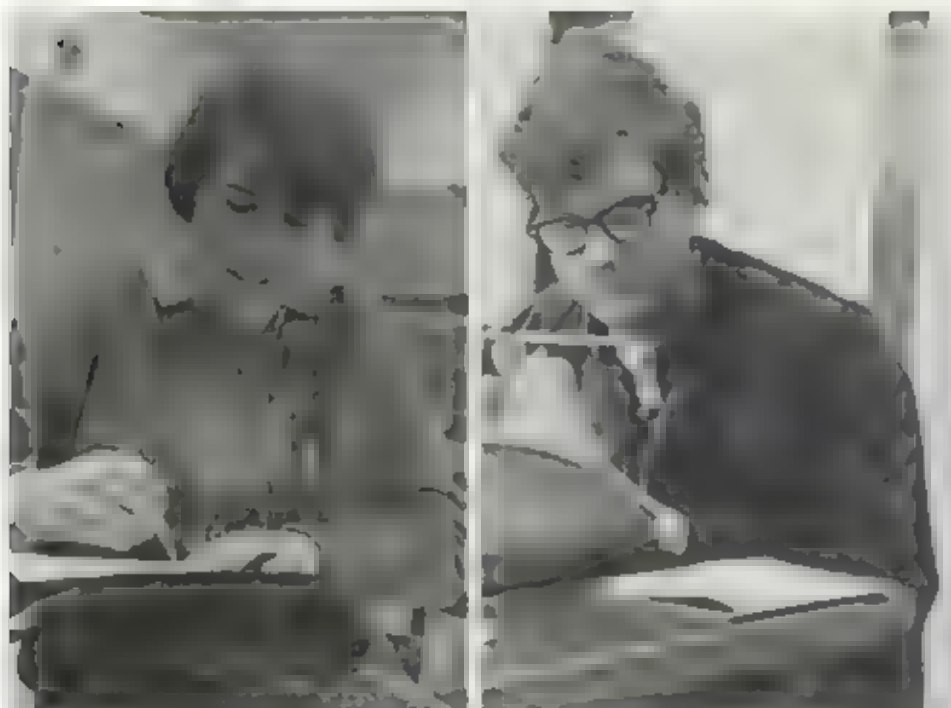

All my love,

Rosemary Bishop

The A.F.S. Club is organized to promote better understanding between student of foreign countries and America. Each year the Willow Glen High School A.F.S. club raises money at its annual Christmas basketball game and dance. This money is used to send a student to a foreign country and receive a foreign student. In the spring the club promotes a day of international understanding by inviting other exchange students to our campus. Speakers from other countries are featured at regular meetings.

ACTIVITIES

THE STAINED GLASS

BLASTS REG DANCE

Each year Willow Glen High School holds a Reg Dance to welcome incoming sophomores and new students. This activity has been held each year since the opening of Willow Glen. This year's Reg Dance was held on October 4, 1968.

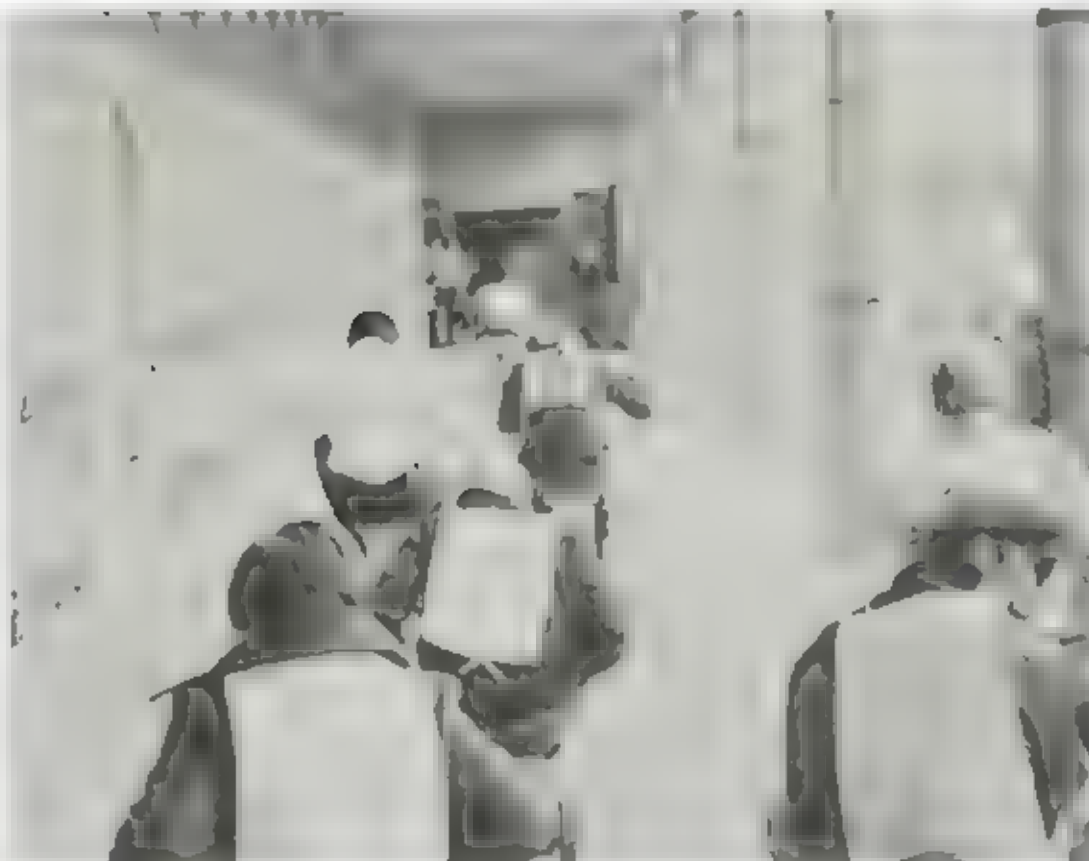

INTERACT SPONSORS VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

TOP: Open Forum is held every Friday in the quad. Students have the opportunity at that time to get up in front of the student body and voice their views. The Open Forum is sponsored by the Interact Club.

BOTTOM LEFT: The Grand Prix Tricycle Race was held on Thursday, November 14, 1968. Contestants lined up in the quad and a gun sounded the beginning of the race. The race track course took the "expert tricyclists" through the halls, around buildings, and down the home stretch lined with spectators. The winner, Greg Favorite.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Liu-chiu-hiong is the Interact Club's foster child. His name in English is Norvin. He is three years old and lives at the Mustardseed, a foster home in Taiwan.

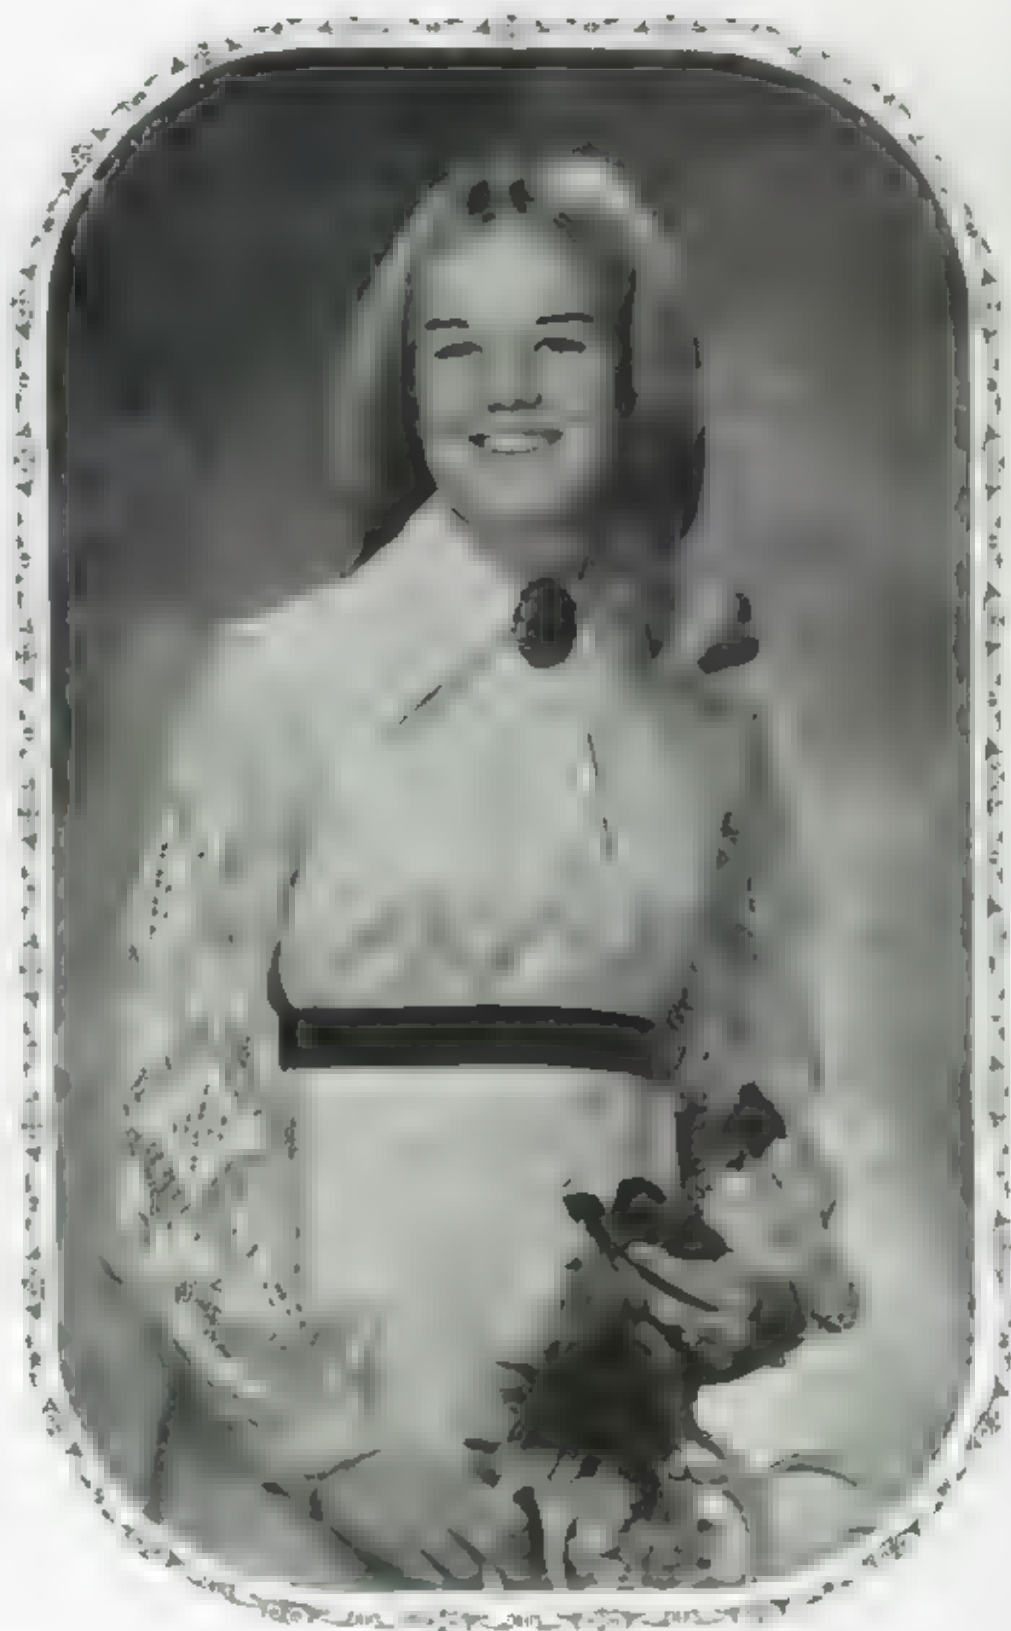

PRINCESS BECKY ADAMS

PRINCESS JANET GRUVER

QUEEN CINDA CONRAD

Thrilling new events produced an unbelievable display of spirit as this year's Homecoming took place on November 15. The days prior to this event were initiated as SPIRIT WEEK, with one day allotted to each class. Furious competition was evident with every sign and every class gimmick. The rallies generated electrifying enthusiasm that carried over to the Homecoming game against Lincoln. Competition in color and loudness was continued at the game and a float was presented. At the dance that night, Cinda Conrad reigned as Homecoming Queen. Her attending court was as follows: Becky Adams-Senior princess, Valerie Concello-Junior princess, and Janet Gruver-Sophomore princess

THE EYE THROWS SNOWBALL

On December 20, the Willow Glen High School annual Christmas Dance was held. The Eye provided the music and the students provided the action. Everyone was decked in their best finery and the dance turned out to be a lot of fun.

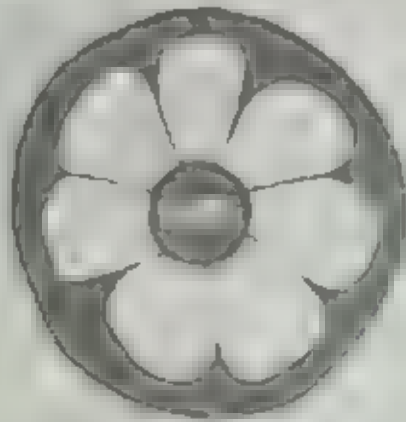

The annual A.F.S. game and dance was held on Saturday, December 21, 1968. The game was slightly changed this year. Instead of the usual Alumni vs the Varsity, the Varsity played Bellarmine. The faculty played the Seniors as originally planned. A dance followed the two exciting games which gave the alumni a chance to visit with their old peers.

FACULTY RULES AGAIN . . . IN A.F.S. GAME

COMPLETE YOUR SET.....SELL MAGAZINES

Debbie wins in daily drawing.

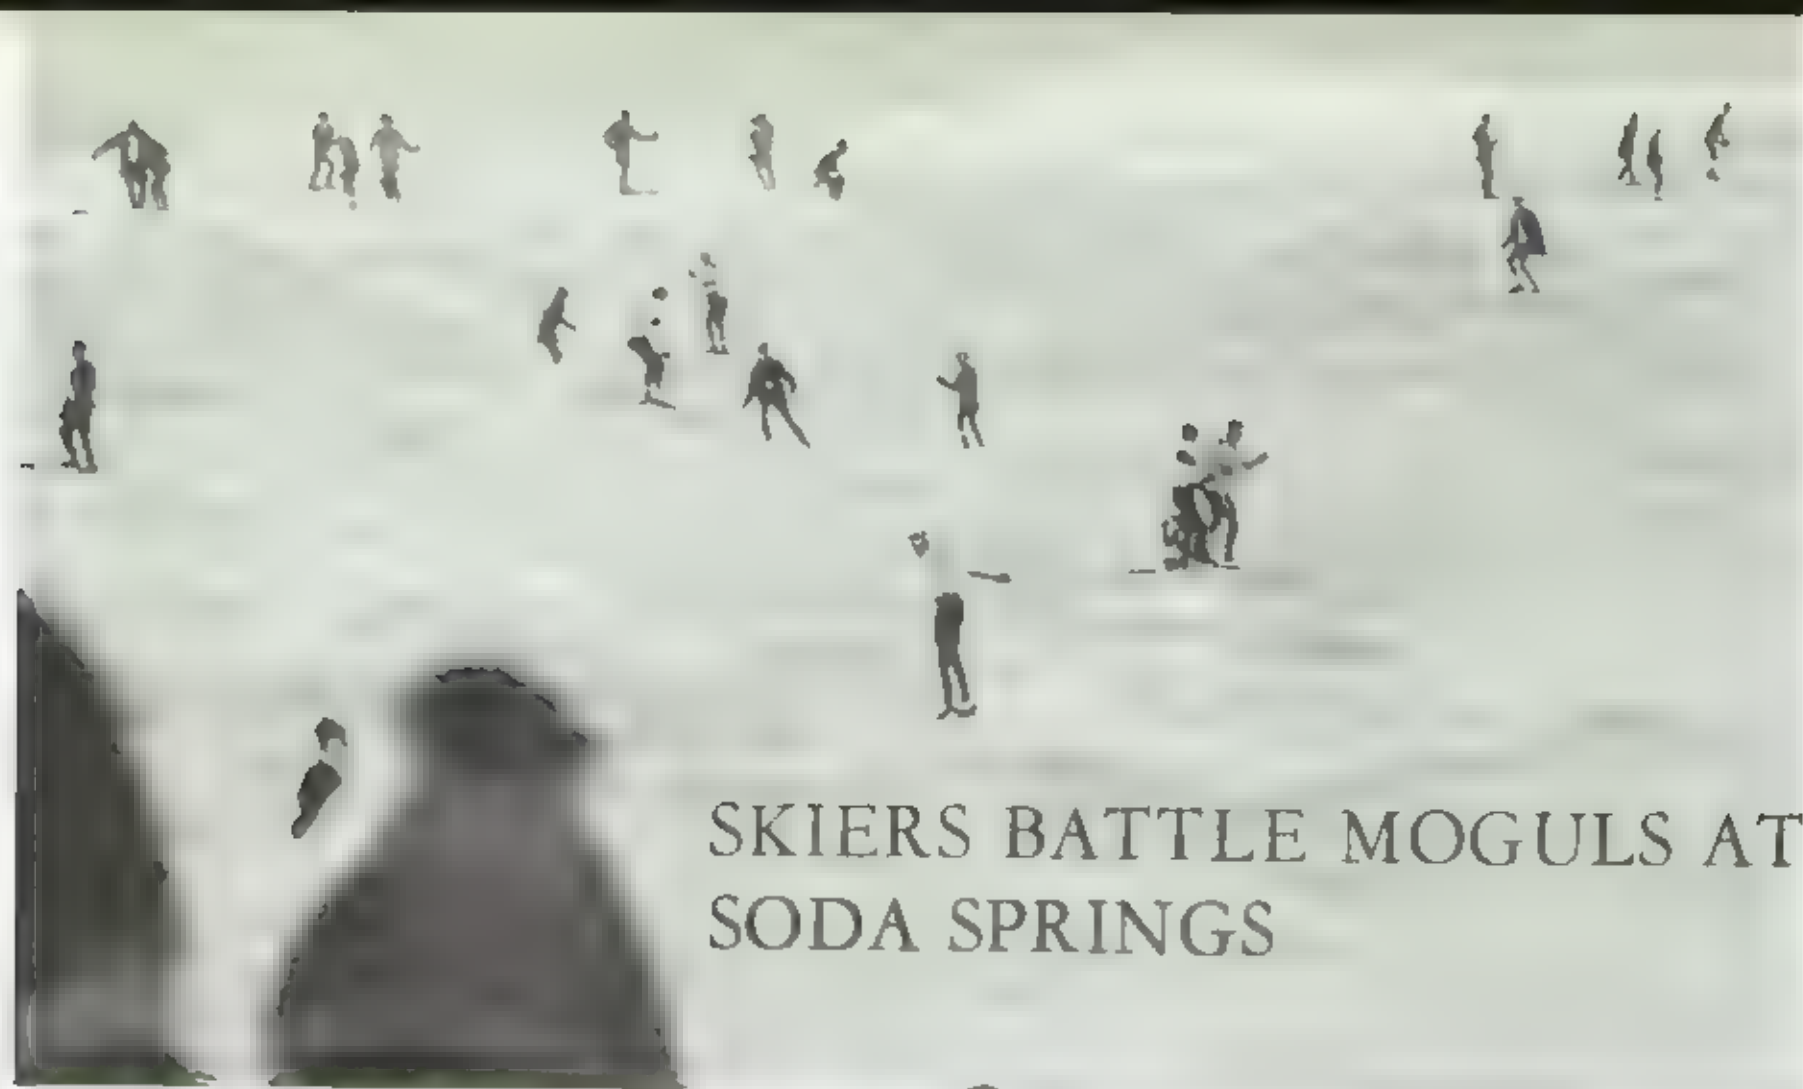

Each year the SENIOR CLASS of Willow Glen High School sponsors a magazine drive. A certain amount of money raised from the sale goes to the Student Body. The remaining sum is spent on senior activities at the end of the year. For those who sold $60 or more worth of magazines a trip to San Francisco was the prize. "Ice Station Zebra" was the movie seen on the trip and dinner at Fisherman's Wharf concluded the evening entertainment. Those who sold five or more magazine subscriptions attended a Pizza Feed at Shakey's Pizza Parlor. Unlimited pizza and drinks were provided and live entertainment followed.

Did you say onions?

Smiles on winners of magazine drive.

SKIERS BATTLE MOGULS AT SODA SPRINGS

On February 1 and 2 the Willow Glen Ski Club found itself at Hoyfjellet Lodge in the Sierras. The weekend was spent skiing at Soda Springs. The group consisted of thirty-two students and three chaperons, Mr. Dick Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Hodnefield. This was the first trip the newly formed club has taken.

Representing Willow Glen and promoting school spirit during the football season were the Willow Glen Cheerleaders and Pom Pom Girls. Their many yells and routines created fantastic spirit at our football games

"He that troubleth his own house shall INHERIT THE WIND"

On November 19, 20, and 21, the Willow Glen Drama Department, under the inspirational direction of Mr. Joe Parker, gave its presentation of INHERIT THE WIND by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee. Try-outs were held in late October, and after a vigorous rehearsal schedule those chosen to portray parts in the play went on to give one of the best performances in Ram history.

Authenticity to the tense court room drama was aided by the staging of the play in the round, a live monkey, and 1925 costuming. Expert characterizations brought to life one of the most famous and moving trials in American history.

The play, "Inherit the Wind," centered around the basic problem of a school teacher named Bertram Cates who was fighting for the right to teach evolution in the schools.

THANK HEAVEN FOR LITTLE GIRLS was the theme for the 1969 annual Dad-Daughter Dinner Dance, held on February 18. Presented by the Girls' Athletic Association and the Dads' Club, it proved to be a great success.

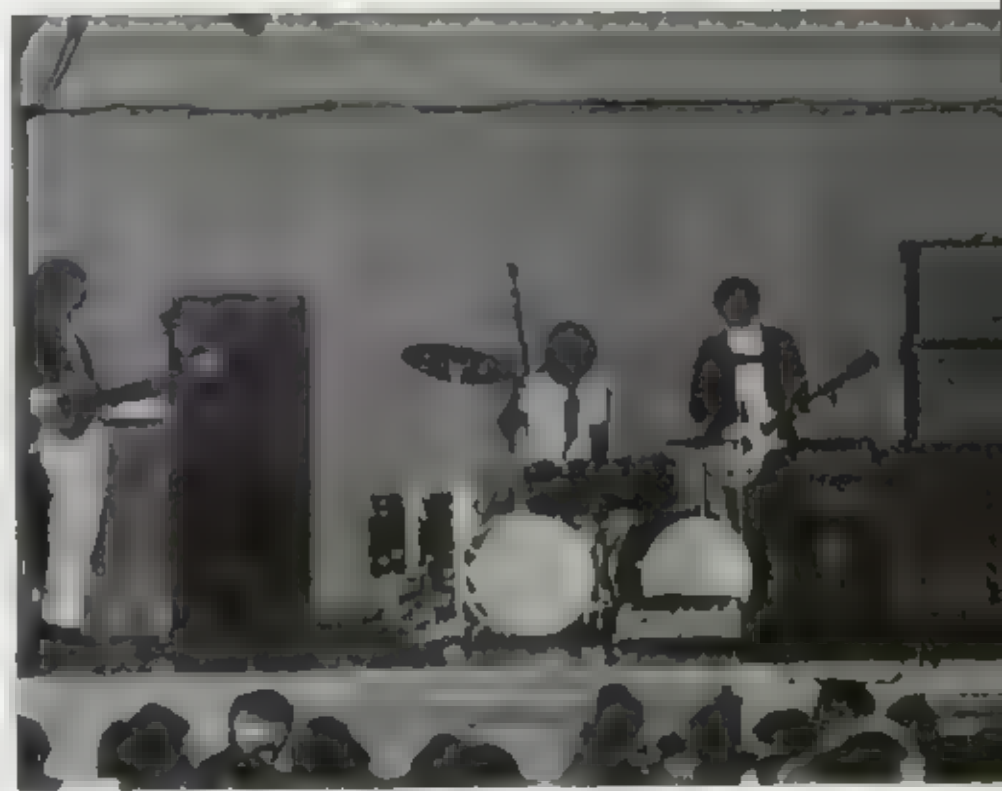

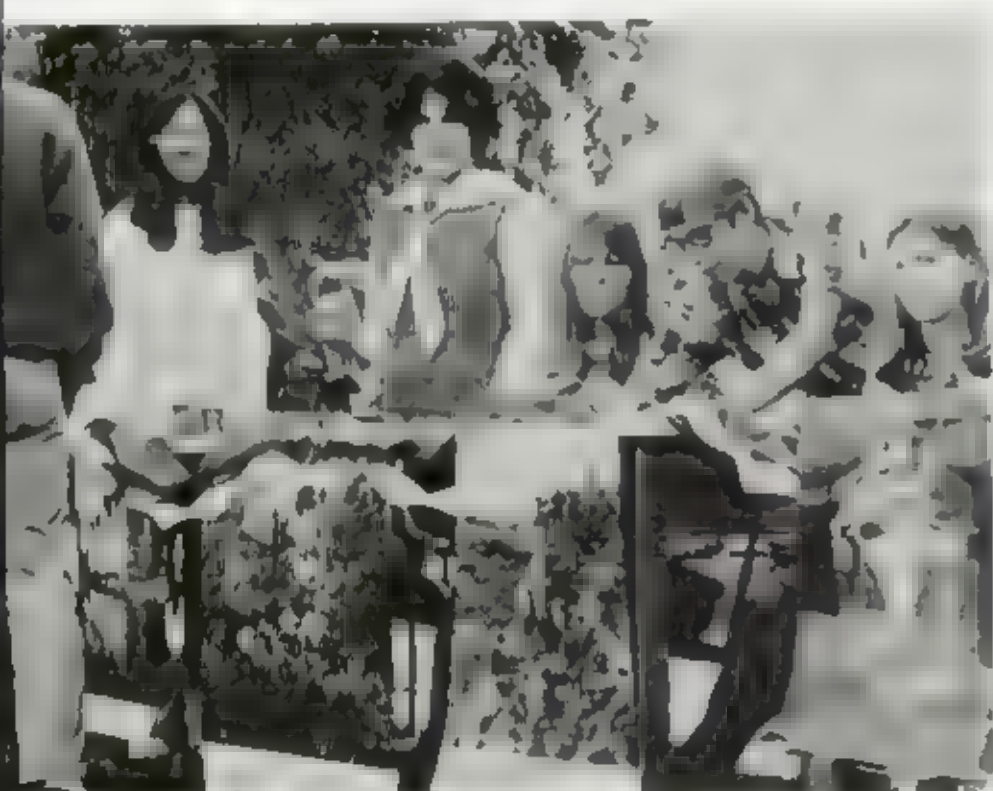

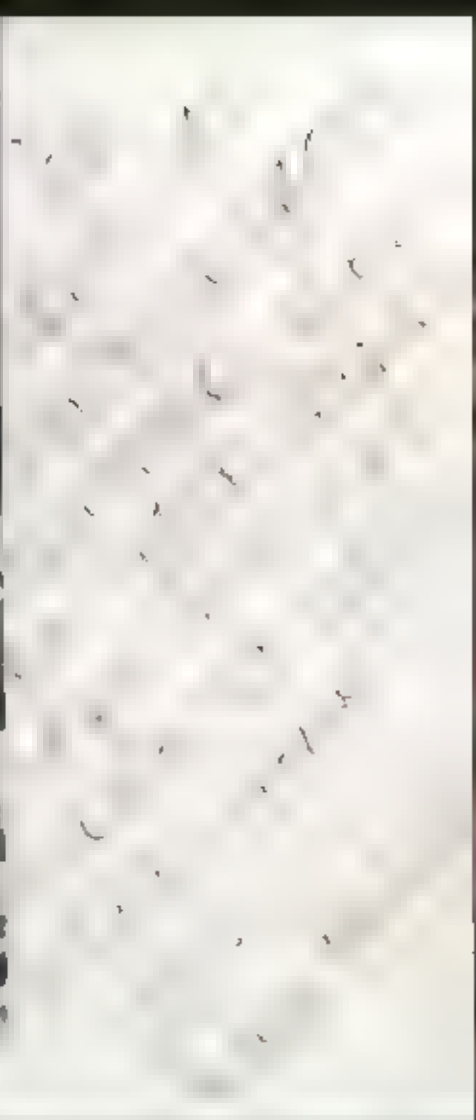

After eating a delicious dinner, the master of ceremonies, Mr. Wilbur Luick, led the evening's festivities. Highlighted by a dance the program included pleasant entertainment and surprises. The "Dixie Land Brass" provided the music for the dance itself and the dance contest. For entertainment were the "Changing Times" folk singers, Gloria Leiter, Steve Lands, and Randy Shank; the Ram Society and their salute to G.A.A.; and singing the theme song were Biddi and Bobbi Deaver.

PIG SCRAMBLE . . . ONE BIG OINK

The first pig scramble in the history of Willow Glen was sponsored by the Future Farmers of America on February 20. Tickets were sold before this wild event and approximately 30 students signed up. The football field and track course were a pig pen of mud. A live pig was set loose and it really didn't have a fighting chance when attacked by eager competitors. An unscheduled mud throwing ended the pig scramble and more people ended up with mud on their bodies than originally intended.

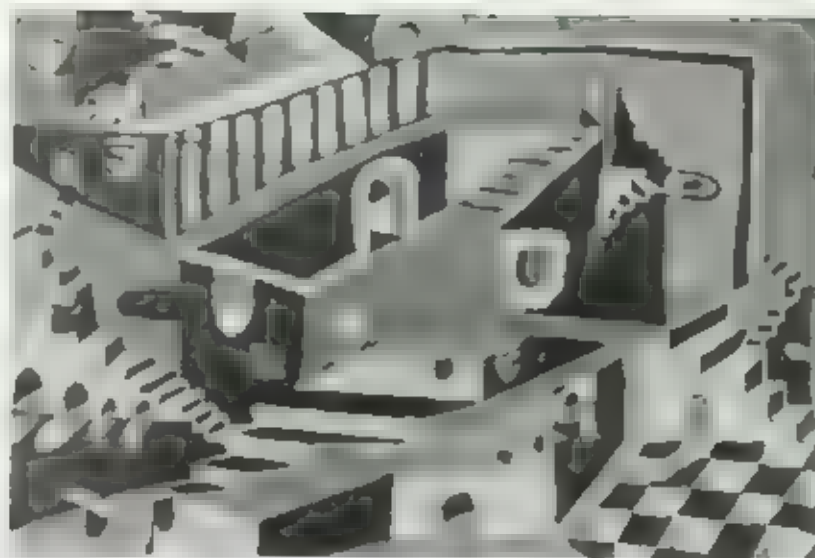

A 'FIRST' AND 'SECOND' AT W.G.

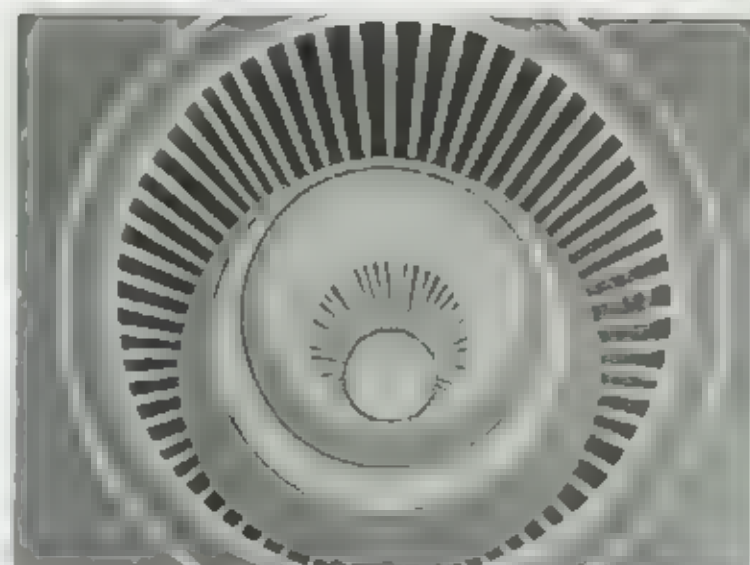

The 1st annual Club Day was held in October, 1968. Club displays lined the perimeter of the quad and students observed them at their leisure

The 2nd annual Northern California Dylan Thomas International Memorial Willow Glen Folk-Rock-Blues and Be-Bop Festival was here on Wednesday, November 27, 1968, in the cafeteria. A variety of performers presented their songs before a crowded audience

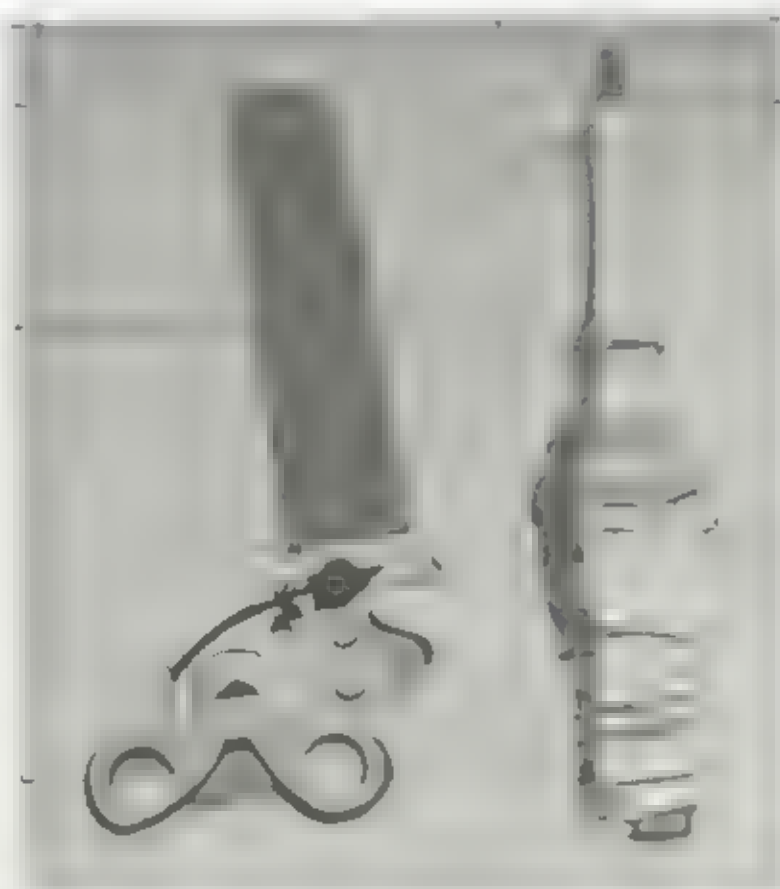

The Willow Glen High School Festival of Arts, held in April, in the cafeteria area, proved students abilities. Arts, crafts, music, and drama were presented to the students and their parents

Participating in the festivities were the choir, directed by Mrs. DiBari and the school orchestra by Mr. Dahneke. Works of art by students in the Art Department were displayed. Heading this were Mr. Holbrook, Mrs. Talty, and Mr. D. Jones. Great acting abilities were exhibited by the Drama Department, directed by Mr. J. Parker

The Willow Glen Rams football team ended the year's football season having played nine games led by senior tailback, Mike Maestri. The Rams compiled a 6-2-1 record. Their efforts proved good enough to give them 2nd place in STAL. The Rams single wing attack rolled over almost every opponent in the league. The only major setback was suffered at the hands of Leland. Not giving up, the Rams battled their way through their next three games. Then came the championship game with Lincoln that ended in a 13-13 dead lock. The Rams put together the best offense in the STAL. They were led by such talented runners as Mike Maestri, Bill Johnson, Ray Taroli, and Dennis Guetschow. Opening the holes for them were center Ron Yoshioka and guards Rory Gnekow and Tim Richmond. Defensively the Rams proved just as tough. The defensive line was led by Dane Hansen and Tyler Conrad. Buckling them up were Rory Gnekow, Bob Richards, Dave Buckley, Ron Yoshioka and Grant Joo.

SOPHS CAPTURE THIRD

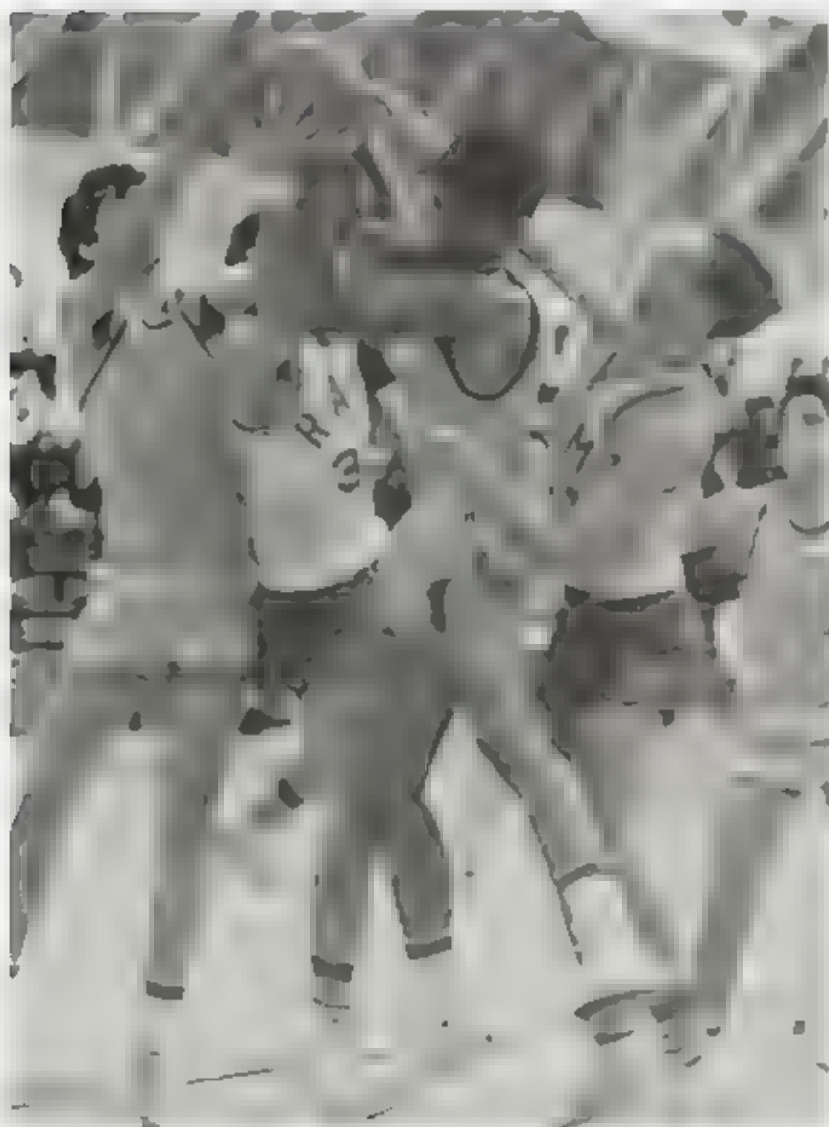

This year's Sophomore Football team compiled a 6-2-1 record, good enough for third place in the S.T.A.L. Led by tailbacks Nick Rusigno and Rick Raich along with hard running fullback Jerry Strangis the little Rams looked very impressive throughout the season. Offensive standouts and prospects for next year's Varsity team are Nick Rusigno, Jerry Strangis, Jerry Deluca and Dan Dungy. Defensive standouts are Ray Arevalo, Tom Sinnott, Jerry Montanez, and Mike Yoshioka. Coaches Jerry Method and Chuck Benjamin led the little Rams.

RAM CAGERS DOMINATE S.T.A.L.; FORGE FANTASTIC 24-0 RECORD

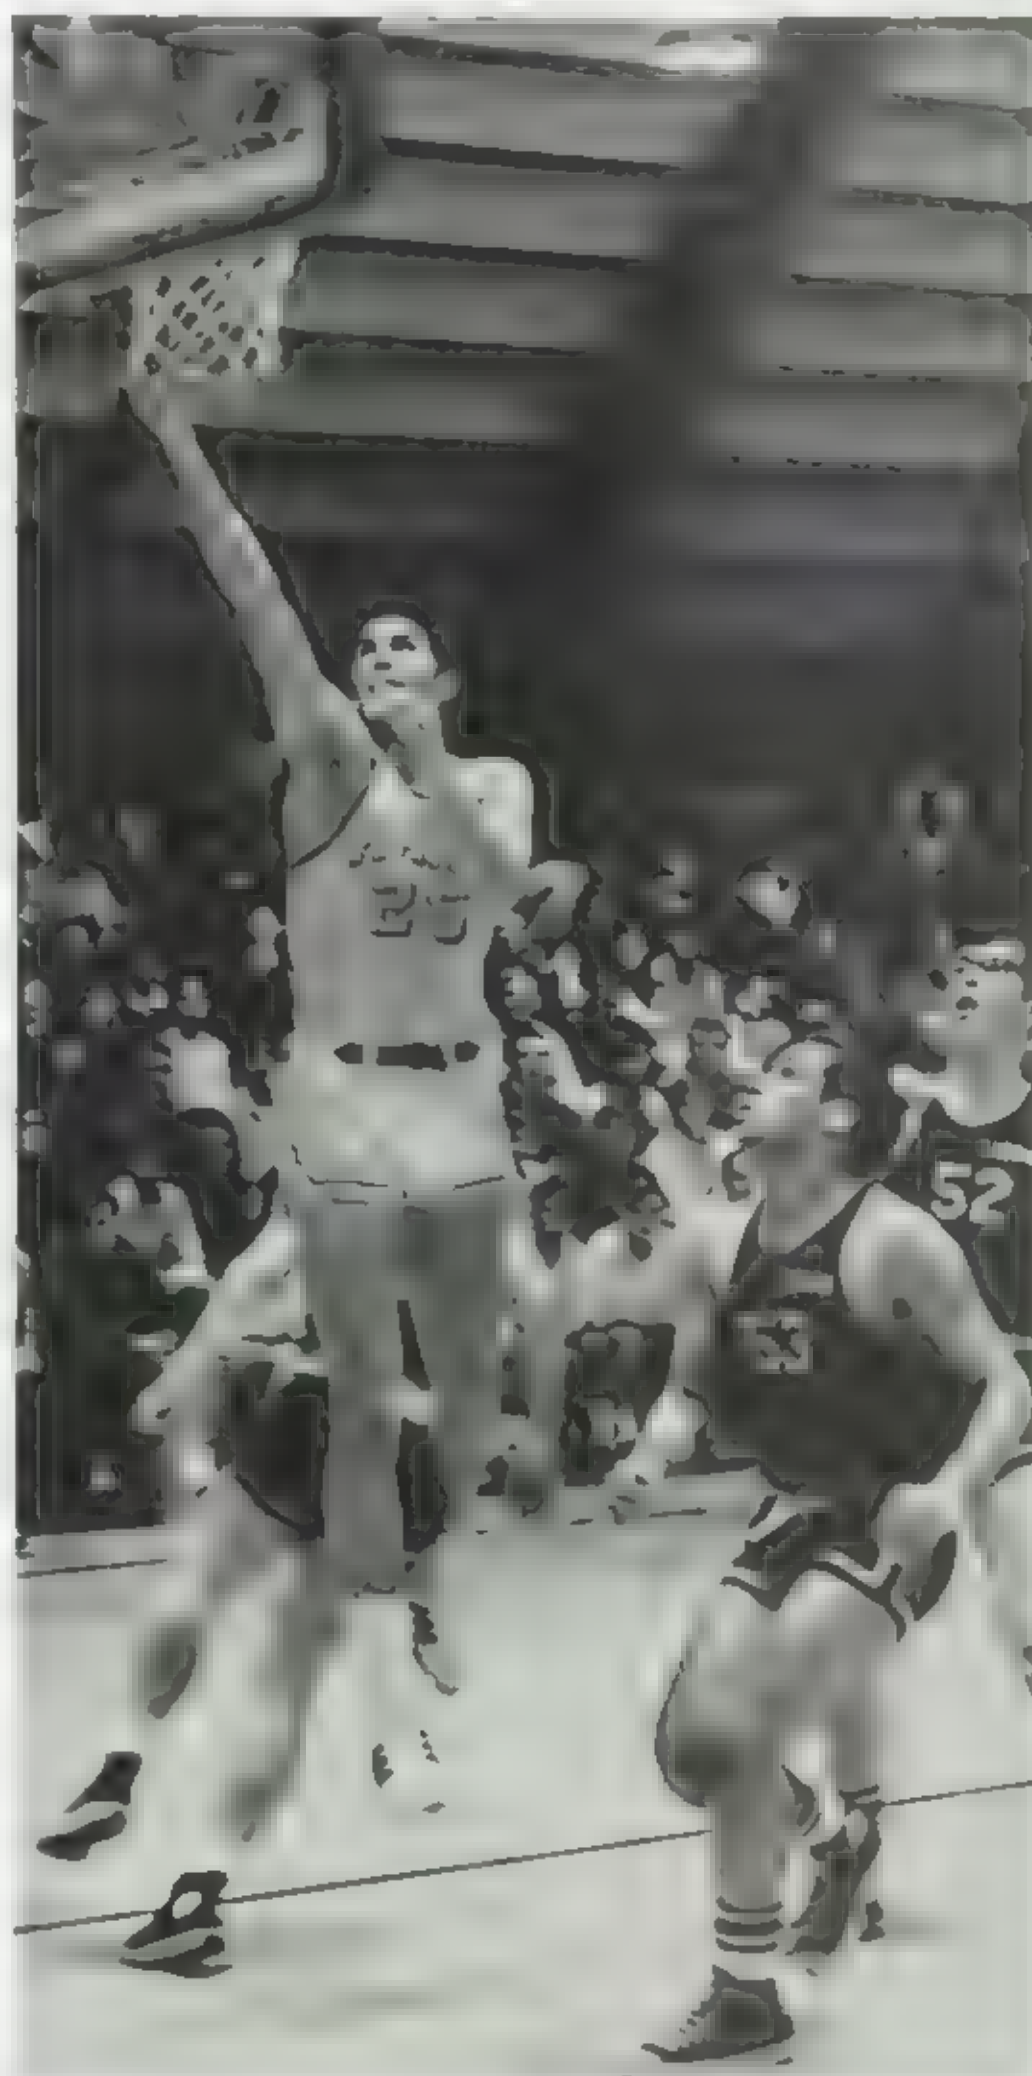

In the future, no history of Willow Glen High School will be complete without just recognition being given to the Varsity Basketball team of 1968-69. Without reservation, this year's varsity basketball team was the best in Willow Glen's 18 year existence. Coach Andy Locatelli succeeded in molding eight seniors and six juniors into a smooth working unit which emphasized defense and ball control. Undeniably the fantastic season was a team accomplishment. While relying on no one player for consistent scoring support, the Rams concentrated on providing a balanced attack which often resulted in numerous players achieving double figures.

It is impossible to designate a Most Valuable Player on this year's varsity team. Each player, in his own way, played an instrumental part in the successful season. Mark Skillicorn, though not the team scoring leader, provided leadership and confidence for the entire squad. Mark's accurate passing, his aggressive defense and his exceptional ballhandling skills singled him out as one of the outstanding guards in the Central Coast Area. Rebounding and scoring were handled in most part by center Phil White. Phil scored an average of eighteen points a game and dominated the rebounding statistics by hauling in ten to twenty rebounds a game. On defense, Phil superbly supported the Ram forwards, for they knew that they could gamble on steals and get help from White if they were beaten. The primary benefactors of this maneuver were Bob Buell, Bob Titchenal and Doug Baldwin. Although Buell received a knee injury in the non-league Bellarmine game, his style of play before the injury and after his return lured many college scouts to the Willow Glen gym. Bob has fantastic leaping ability and was most valuable with his offensive rebounding. Titchenal, a deadly shooter from the outside and an effective driver as well, completely destroyed the opponents who played zone defenses, as he consistently hit from the twenty-foot range. Baldwin proved to be a most valuable replacement when Buell became injured. Often called upon to guard the opponent's best forward, Doug met the challenge and also supplied valuable rebounding assistance to the front line. Skillicorn's backcourt partner was Rich Ross. Ross was forced to make the transition from forward to guard this year to replace one of last year's seniors. The switch was most beneficial to the team as Rich added strength to the rebounding and quickness to the man-to-man press.

Of course, every great team must have a strong bench and Willow Glen's was no exception. Steve Schmidt and Blackford, senior guards, will be lost through graduation, but Taroli, a junior forward and Wickersham, a junior guard, will be back next year to carry on the Willow Glen tradition. Steve Schmidt, Ray Taroli, Walt Blackford, and Don Wickersham, though second stringers at Willow Glen, would undoubtedly be starters at many schools in the area. Expected to vie for positions on next year's team are Manuel Subia, Dave Frandsen, Pete Carillo and Dan Fowler. The four players, all of whom are juniors, gained valuable experience playing with the varsity and will no doubt need it since none of this year's starters will be returning.

We of the Yearbook Staff on behalf of the entire student body and faculty, would like to thank Mr. Locatelli and the entire Willow Glen Varsity Basketball team for the many thrilling and exciting moments they provided this season. We would like to acknowledge the hard work and diligent practice needed for such an excellent season, and would also like to recognize Mr. Locatelli for his excellent coaching job.

With such junior prospects as Jim Columbo, Steve Denton, and Mike Ellzey, the veteran Rams, Bob Sterns, Randy Boehme, Mike Maestri, Tom French, Larry Bengiveno, Jim Kearney, Ron Yoshioka, Rich Snively, and Bob Gafford, should hold a high mark in this year's STAL standings.

The year of nineteen sixty-nine is drawing to a close, but the lives of this year's graduating class are just beginning. New horizons are ready to be sought, and new goals are waiting to be achieved. The scope of knowledge is waiting to be widened by all those who seek to learn its inner secrets to life.

There are many paths to choose from in life. Each individual has to seek his own. Each step of the will leads to new experiences and knowledge.

Good luck to the class of 1969 and may each one of you find your separate path in life and follow it till eternity.

K.E.

Tom, is one of the great basketball players in the school. It was great sleeping in Dick's class. Have a fun summer and I hope to see you in one of my classes next year. You know it's been here years in a row.
Your friend always,
Steve.

J. Tom AND FRIEND OF ANDY'S IS WEIRD.

BUT YOU'RE STILL MY FRIEND
With Love

I'm glad to hear from you at last. I hope you're back to your old self.
See you when the next 14th...

The world were like you,

It was a ball. Now, just America.

Love always, Tom

Peter

To Tommy
I told you that unknown was a sulfate. You're great personality(?) helped again to worm out of Beck. If you're lucky and I'm not, you'll have some classes together.
